THE IDEAL TOWN.

The ideal city or town of the twentieth century is a much discussed subject, and rightly so. Prominent writers in the magazines and newspapers are advising improvements that shall bring about the desired results, and many of the suggestions are being accepted, to the betterment of conditions in hundreds of municipalities. Monessen is doing something in this line, but not nearly as much as it ought or could do.

A city with clean streets, well sprinkled streets, lined with well-cared-for shade trees; streets and roads that are free from bill boards; vacant lots now used for dumping places, turned into attractive squares; back yards that are visions of beauty, instead of eyesores; window boxes that brighten dull walls and recreation piers on the banks of the river. All these make for patriotism as well as civic beauty and righteousness.

Gallen, Mich.

Gentlemen: I bought three bottles of your medicine from my druggist. The medicine rendered me very good service, but I am sorry to say that the druggists here are all sold out of your medicine. I should have bought six bottles instead of three. I will gladly take six bottles of the Nervine and Blood Tonic, and request that you write me, if you are able to read this, for I am rather old to write. I have suffered six years from NERVOUS TROUBLE, caused by a fall, and my whole body remained in a tremble, but no pain. Every doctor I consulted failed to help me, and I was compelled to give up all housework. Then I read your advertisement and bought your medicine, and almost immediately after commencing its use I was a new woman. I hope you will write me at once, and tell me how much money I must send, as I am anxious to get to using your medicine again soon. With most hearty regards, I remain,

Twenty Minutes Late

[Copyright, 1906, by C. J. Hirt.]

On shipboard from Australia to London I became friendly with George Brisbane, a consumptive, going home to die. He told me that his partner had "jumped" him and robbed him of a fortune. A London lawyer had written him offering a small sum in settlement. On the strength of this offer, backed by some other papers he had showing that his disloyal partner was a fugitive from the New Zealand law, the young man was going home to force the robber to disgorge. He had an old mother in England, but no other near relative. He asked me to put his case into the hands of a lawyer on arriving in London with a view to getting something out of it for the mother. This I agreed to do. A day later Brisbane was dead.

I decided to call on the lawyer who had written the letter as the first move. The man was a shyster lawyer, who was moving about when a place got too hot for him, and I had to get a private detective to locate him. This took a week. When I got at the lawyer at last I judged him to be a rascal. He was very offensive at the start, but when I brought up the New Zealand matter he calmed down and was ready to talk about a settlement. He claimed that his client was in Paris, and another week was wasted. The name of Brisbane's defaulting partner was Saunders, and when at last he showed up by appointment I knew the two for a pretty pair of rascals.

We had it red hot for half an hour, and then he cooled down and we got to talking business. He soon became as humble as he had been boisterous, and it was agreed that the three of us should have a further talk that evening at the lawyer's house. It was the lawyer who suggested the evening meeting, as he would have a case out of town next day and wanted to get my affair in shape as soon as possible. I was to call at 307 Beacon street, in the east end of London. As the distance from my hotel was all of five miles, I was invited to take the underground, which ran within half a block of the street.

While I didn't like the looks of the two men, I apprehended nothing further from them than an attempt to "sharp" me. It was to be expected that they would beat the figures down as low as possible and bluff to the last, but I felt perfectly safe from anything like personal assault. I took the underground and was caught in an accident by which I was detained twenty minutes. I reached Beacon street to find it a street of mean terraces. It was a dark and rainy night, the street ill lighted, and all the people living on the first block seemed to be snug within doors.

I hurried along to the number wanted and got it from counting ahead from 205. It was a two story brick house, but showed no light at any window. There were six steps to go up, and I was about to ring the bell when I found the door ajar. I pushed it wide open and looked into the hall, but all was dark. I called out, but received no answer. I heard some one coming down the street at a slow pace, and as the figure of a policeman loomed up I called out:

"Officer, can you tell me if this is 307?"

"I'm new to this beat, and I can't tell you offhand," he replied, "but we'll soon settle the matter."

He ascended the steps, shoved the slide of the dark lantern he carried, and after a minute we found the number. When we had done so he jokingly asked:

"Are you running away from your landlord, that you have to hire another house by night?"

"What do you mean?"

"Why, it's to lease. Don't you see the sign in the window?"

Sure enough there was a sign. I had put the number down in my notebook, but it was an empty house I had been told to call at. I was puzzling over it when the officer asked:

"Who did you want to find?"

"A lawyer named Jacobs. He said he lived here."

"I don't know Jacobs," he said, "but he was a liar when he told you what he did. If you have any dealings with a man by that name look out for yourself. Hello, some one has left the door open. That's like most of the caretakers along here."

He pulled the door to and we descended the steps together, and I went back to the hotel feeling that I had been done. I could do nothing until the next morning, and then I had reasons for deciding to do nothing. The morning papers contained an account of a murder at 307 Beacon street. It seemed that about an hour after I left the officer the door blew open again, and when he went to close it he flashed his lantern in the hall and found a dead man. The victim had been struck with a bludgeon and his skull crushed, and he had died almost immediately. I was brought into the case as having talked with the officer and made inquiries after Jacobs, but no good description was given of me, while it had been ascertained that Jacobs had fled.

The case was called a great mystery by the police, and no arrests were made in it. I knew how it was, however. Some one had called to make an inquiry about the time I was expected, and Saunders, who was stationed in the hall with a bludgeon, had struck him down, thinking it was me. The man must have been a stranger to London, as the body was not identified. I simply had nothing to say, did no more hunting after Jacobs and after a few weeks the case was heard of no more. The papers were sent to Brisbane's mother, but I never heard that she did anything with them. M. QUAD.

Franklin on Catching Cold.

It is well known, says the New York Evening Post, that Franklin made a particular study of colds and had his own theory about them, which we believe is pretty much the theory of today. One of his assertions was that catching cold does not come from mere cold, but from unequal temperature over the body and from undistributed moisture. To prove this he made a number of observations on occasions when he did and did not suffer. A few of these follow:

By putting on a damp shirt on a dry body—yes.

By putting on a dry shirt on a wet body, though this wets the body ten times more—no.

By sitting in a room where the floor has been newly washed—yes.

By going into a river and staying there an hour (no sheets so wet)—no.

By wetting the feet only—yes.

By wetting all the clothes through the body and wearing them a whole day—no.

By sitting in a room against a crevice—yes.

By sitting as long in the open air—no.

Hank White Gave the Tip.

Hank White, the minstrel, lived in Reading, Vt., for many years. He was very fond of horse races, and rarely missed any of the meetings in Windsor or Rutland county. Once he attended a breeders' meeting at Rutland. The breeders' meetings were famous and attracted people from New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and all over Vermont. On this particular day Hank was seated in the grand stand, one of 5,000 people.

"Hod" Fish Ira, a well known character, was driving his horse Belvidere, a very large bay horse, with not too much speed, but the owner had an idea that he was a wonder. It was in the free for all race. All the horses except Belvidere had passed the grand stand almost neck and neck on the first half. It was a beautiful race. Trailing behind about twenty rods came Belvidere, the driver urging him on to better efforts, and when he was in front of the grand stand Hank stood up and yelled at the top of his voice: "Take the first turn to the left, Hod; all the others have gone that way." Hod drove Belvidere to the barn.—Boston Herald.

Knew It.

"Well, after the dinner Boresome told a story about his exploits in Africa and then one about an Irishman he met in Switzerland."

"But I thought you were not at the banquet."

"Nor was I at this particular one, but have attended sixteen others where Bore one told these stories."

Bad Habits.

"It would be a very bad thing if farmers ever got control of the national finances."

"Why so?"

"Because from sheer force of habit they would want to be always watering the stock."—Baltimore American.

He Knew.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute Kidney trouble. Sold by The Avenue Drug Store.

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $2 per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made. It produces a bale of cotton per acre, worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops, such as corn, small grains, grasses, vegetables and fruits, thrive as well.

Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states, and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $3 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

Couldn't Lift Ten Pounds.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Making Him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. CORTON.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of Deppe, N. C., says "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sift anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and is harmless.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels—thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The gums and resins obtained from pine trees have long been recognized as highly beneficial in the treatment of back ache, kidney and bladder troubles. Pine-ules is the name of a new medicine the principle ingredients of which come from the pine forests of our own native land. Sold by C. A. Light.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. Makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, and draws out the inflammation. It should be kept on hand for immediate use.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

It is not difficult to relieve blind bleeding, itching or protruding piles with Man-Zan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in collapsible tubes with nozzle, as may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by C. A. Light.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, pulling, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.—Sold by W. Beck.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is De Witt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of the famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bedtime when you feel that stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

BUFFINGTON NOT A CANDIDATE.

Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States court is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor He announced this positvely to his friends yesterday. He says his life on the bench is so congenial that the prospect of entering a contest for a political office, even though it be the highest in the gift of the state, does not appeal to him. Allegheny county men say that if Buffington had remained in the field, he would have had the solid support of the delegation from this county and would have shown strenght in other parts of the state.

Now that Judge Buffington is out of the contest Francis L. Robbins is beinᵍ talked of as Allegheny's favorite son. Intimate friends of Mr. Robbins have been consulting with him on the governorship and have been keeping in close touch with the poltical situation in the state. It is intimated that the Allegheny county delegation will place Mr. Robbins nomination at the convention, and it is believed that many delegates from other section will favor his candidacy.

The possibilities of former Senator Lewis Emery, Jr., being considered by the Republican convention is being discussed by delegates who returned yesterday from the Lincoln party in Philadelphia.

The Robbins' boom created quite a stir at the headquaters of Josiah V. Thompson of Uniontown at the Duquesne hotel yesterday. He received a number of visitors yesterday among them former councilman J. M. Best, S. S. Lesslie, former secretary of the citizens party and Moses Zugsmith of the Twentieth ward. John E. Grable, assistant city clerk under the citizens administration, was acting as focal press agent for Mr. Thompson.
